A very special thanks to our sponsors:

Robert Sørli is a Norwegian citizen, born in 1958. In daily life he works as a fireman at Oslo international airport.

At nine years of age Sørli had already developed a strong passion for dogs. Nowadays he runs his own kennel and his dogs are well-known far accross the Norwegian borders.

Robert's sincere interest in dogs, combined with his natural leadership capabilities, enable him to reach race successes with dogs others may find difficult even to handle. At the end of each training season his dogs have run about 8000 kilometers!

Robert competes in long-distance races and has finished first in almost every important sleddog race. Moreover, he is the only European musher ever to win the famous Iditarod race in Alaska.... twice even!

2 x Iditarod winner ('03 and '05) (1800 km)
1 x Iditarod rookie of the year ('02)
2 x Norwegian long-distance champion
1 x Kongepokal ('93)
1 x Norwegian mid-distance champion
3 x Finnmarksløpet winner (1000 km)
7 x Femundløpet winner (500 km)
